

About MAMA

The Missouri Association for Museums and Archives (MAMA) is a non-profit organization for:

- public and private institutions, such as state & local historical societies, archives, libraries, museums (science, art, history, children's, etc.), historic sites, and national and state parks,
- paid staff members,
- unpaid staff members,
- board members,
- and friends of these organizations.

The purpose of the Missouri Association for Museums and Archives, a non-profit organization, is to encourage communication, cooperation and collaboration among museums, archives, historical societies, libraries and all persons who desire to affiliate with said organizations in the State of Missouri.

The Missouri Association for Museums and Archives provides members of the state's historical and cultural communities with various opportunities to gain access to resources, share expertise, attend workshops, and to network with colleagues from other institutions.
